Starting law with lifestyle

ABOUT US

Founded in June 2025, JD Genesis's mission is to increase the number of underrepresented women entering law school by delivering culturally responsive wellness coaching, mentorship, and admissions readiness support, ensuring not just access to legal education, but sustainability and success within it.

THE FELLOWSHIP

Over the course of 18-months each JD Genesis Fellow receives a suite of high-touch resources to include an in-person professional development retreat, 12 therapy vouchers, 12 hours of personalized LSAT tutoring, one year access to an LSAT digital prep course, one LSAT administration, detailed application assistance in the law school admissions process, mentorship from current law students and practicing attorneys, opportunities to build community with individuals in the legal field, and extensive academic readiness training.

WHY SUPPORT US

Supporting JD Genesis means investing in the next generation of lawyers that are mentally well, socially conscious, and professionally supported. Mental health is a growing crisis in legal education and worsens over time. The best evidence comes from the Survey of Law Student Well-Being, which noted that in 2021, 33% of students reported a depression diagnosis, 33% had serious thoughts of suicide, 40% reported a diagnosis of anxiety in their lifetime, and 69% thought they needed help for emotional or mental health problems.
